

30 April 2010

Thanks for your letter.

It is untrue to state that Mr Clegg was made aware of the incidents you allege.

Given this fact It is obviously untrue to state that Mr Clegg asked Jo Swinson or anyone else to carry out an investigation into the incidents that you allege.

It is untrue to state that Chris Rennard holds any role in the current Lib Dem election campaign. He has not held a role since he stepped down as Chief Executive.

I note from your letter that you wish to keep the contents private and confidential as you understand the allegations to be unproven claims. However, in view of the serious allegations you make about a named individual, you should perhaps put the allegations to the person concerned.

Yours sincerely
